

The welcome page

HARRY

Hello. My name is Harry. I am here to help you write a story. I will help you in several ways. You will find I ask lots of questions! I hope these will remind you to put in everything a good story needs. If you would like me to suggest ideas to write about, or if you are stuck for a good word to use, or a way to write your next sentence, then click on the 'help' buttons and I'll do my best to think of something to help you!

We will write a story a section at a time. When you think you've about written everything you need to include in a section, then click on the 'Check' button just to make sure! Clicking on the 'What Next?' button will take you to the next section of your story. If you want to go back and change something you wrote, then use the arrow keys to get you to the place you want to change.

Please enter your name below. Then press the 'Go' button. To continue an existing story, click the 'Continue a Saved Story' button.

Ready now

Continue a Saved Story

Annotations:

- Red box: "Type your name here" with an arrow pointing to the text input field.
- Red box: "Or, click here to carry on with a story you've started before" with an arrow pointing to the "Continue a Saved Story" button.

The planning page

Harry says:

Hello Joe!
I am sure you will enjoy writing a pirate story. List some words for this story in the box below.

Captain always has problems with his stupid crew
Pirate crew mix up their left and right

I say:

What Next? Check!

Ideas
Sentence Help
Useful Words

CLICK X TO CLOSE ME

Pirate stories are usually funny because the pirates do silly things. What silly things will the pirates do in your story? What will the pirates be like? Stupid? Clever? Babyish? (Still plays with toys!) Neat and tidy? Clumsy?

Annotations:

- Red box: "Click here to move on to the next section of the story" with an arrow pointing to the "What Next?" button.
- Red box: "Click here to check you've included everything" with an arrow pointing to the "Check!" button.
- Red box: "Click here for extra ideas" with three arrows pointing to the "Ideas", "Sentence Help", and "Useful Words" buttons.

The opening paragraph

http://localhost/education/pirate/start.asp?name=Joe - Microsoft Internet Explorer

File Edit View Favorites Tools Help

Back Forward Stop Refresh Home Search Favorites History Mail Print Edit Discuss

Address http://localhost/education/pirate/start.asp?name=Joe

Harry says:

Set the scene. Your story could start with the pirates on board ship, or perhaps walking along the quay towards their ship. Tell me what is happening.

Ideas
Sentence Help
Useful Words

Remember to click here for more ideas

CLICK X TO CLOSE ME ... x

Have you made the start of your story interesting enough?
Have you written about at least 3 parts of the ship?

Try to write as much as you can!

I say:

There was a bunch of deadly pirates, their names were: Blackhole Bill Sruffbag Sam Terrible Ted and the captain Whitebeard Willy Their cabin boy was called ... tell you more about these pirates of the deadly you afraid of Blackhole Bill? He's actually quite n't know anything about rigging and asked to down? He'd pull down the wrong cord and before you could say "Billy!" (which is what he's known as)

Remember to check you've written everything you should

What Next? Check! That's it for now!

Local intranet

Moving backwards and forwards

http://localhost/education/pirate/back2.asp?name=Joe&ID=5&pos=3 - Microsoft Internet Explorer

File Edit View Favorites Tools Help

Back Forward Stop Refresh Home Search Favorites History Mail Print Edit Discuss

Address http://localhost/education/pirate/back2.asp?name=Joe&ID=5&pos=3

Do not use!

Harry said:

Describe the treasure in more detail. What will the pirates do with all the treasure?

Ideas
Sentence Help
Useful Words

CLICK X TO CLOSE ME ... x

Will the pirates keep the treasure safely, or will they nearly lose it, or get it stolen?

Click here to go back to view previous sections again

I said:

"... they steal my coins!" shouted Terrible Ted and danced ... rage." My precious coins! My precious chocolate coins!"

... sure they won't steal your important chocolate coins!" ... lied Captain Whitebeard Willy worriedly, "I think their ... for our money and drinks and I think they are the cut ... at evil robbers!" At the terrible name the pirates ... nt and shaked and quaked and looked around

Click here to go forwards again to the section you were working on

Check!

Local intranet

Saving your story to finish later

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer window with the address bar displaying `http://localhost/education/pirate/key.asp?name=Joe`. The page content includes a yellow box with the text "Describe the treasure in more detail. What will the pirates do with all the treasure?". Below this is a text area with the heading "I say:" containing the text: "If they steal my coins!" shouted Terrible Ted and danced with rage." My precious coins! My precious chocolate coins!" and "I'm sure they won't steal your important chocolate coins!" replied Captain Whitebeard Willy worriedly, "I think their after our money and drinks and I think they are the cut throat evil robbers!" At the terrible name the pirates fell silent and shaked and quaked and looked around them as if... To the right, there are buttons for "Ideas", "Sentence Help", and "Useful Words". A small pop-up window titled "CLICK X TO CLOSE ME" contains the text: "What do the pirates say? 'Yippee, here's the treasure!' 'Keep digging me hearties!' 'Does this tiara suit...". At the bottom of the page, there are three buttons: "What Next?", "Check!", and "That's it for now!".

Do not click here! (Annotation pointing to the close button in the browser window)

Click here when you want to stop writing. (This will save your work!) (Annotation pointing to the "Check!" button)

Returning to finish your story

(Click on the book when you are on the welcome page to get here)

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer window with the address bar displaying `http://localhost/education/pirate/welcome1.asp`. The page has a blue background and is titled "Continue a Saved Story". It features an icon of a book and a notepad. The text reads: "Welcome back. To continue with your saved story please enter your name below. If you haven't saved a story on this theme before, then simply use the back button on your web browser (near the top left corner) and enter a name." Below the text is a text input field containing "Joe" and a "Ready now" button.

Type your name here exactly as you wrote it the first time (Annotation pointing to the text input field)

The last section

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer window with the address bar displaying `http://localhost/education/pirate/last.asp?name=Joe`. The page content includes:

- Harry says: This is the end of your story. Explain what happens as a result of the adventure, or the pirate's plans.
- I say: all the people they had stolen it from. They left their treasure where it was but picked up their Willy couldn't live without it and sailed adventures under the sun.
- Navigation buttons: "What Next?", "Check!", and "That's it for now!".
- Help links: "Ideas", "Sentence Help", and "Useful Words".

Two red callout boxes provide instructions:

- A box on the left points to the "What Next?" button with the text: "Click here to move on to the editing stage".
- A box on the right points to the "Check!" button with the text: "Go back to read your story through. Make changes if you want.".

The status bar at the bottom shows `javascript: popupwindow("back.asp?name=Joe")` and "Local intranet".

Moving on to the second stage (editing)

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer window with the address bar displaying `http://localhost/education/pirate/ending.asp?name=Joe`. The page content includes:

- Harry says: Dear Joe, Well done! You've finished the first draft of your story. I enjoyed reading it! With a few changes, you could make your story even better though. I will give you some suggestions. Click here to start editing your story.

A red callout box with the text "Do not use!" points to the "Back" button in the browser's navigation bar.

The status bar at the bottom shows "Done" and "Local intranet".

The editing stage

http://localhost/education/pirate/edit.asp?name=Joe&ID=6 - Microsoft Internet Explorer

File Edit View Favorites Tools Help

Back Forward Stop Refresh Home Search Favorites History Mail Print Edit Discuss

Address http://localhost/education/pirate/edit.asp?name=Joe&ID=6 Go Links »

Harry said:
This is the end of your story...
the adventure, or the pirate's life.

You wrote:
They left their treasure where it was but picked up their brandy as Captain Willy couldn't live without it and sailed away for more adventures under the sun.

Suggestions:
You may need a comma before the word [but].

Do not use!

Find these mistakes and correct them in your writing!

Click here to move on to the next section

Click here to stop editing and save your changes so far

What Next? That's it for now!

Moving on to the third and final stage

http://localhost/education/pirate/endedit.asp?name=Joe - Microsoft Internet Explorer

File Edit View Favorites Tools Help

Back Forward Stop Refresh Home Search Favorites History Mail Print Edit Discuss

Address http://localhost/education/pirate/endedit.asp?name=Joe Go Links »

Harry says:
Dear Joe
You've nearly finished...just one more job to do. Correct any spelling mistakes and typing errors in your word processor - the last stage.
Remember to add a title to your story!
Now Joe, click here to open up your word processor with your story in it for final editing.

Click here to open up your entire edited story in your web browser

Viewing your complete story

